

Dimensions of Anthropocentrism

EDITED BY

Dr. Ruby Christie .L

Mrs. Esther Margaret .J

Dr. L. Ruby Christie, Professor and Head of the Department of English, teaches British Literature, American Literature, African/African-American Literature, Indian Literature and Research Methodology for Undergraduate and Postgraduate students since 1998. Her doctrinal research is in the Science Fiction of C.S. Lewis. Her area of interest is also in literary style and technique. She has participated and presented papers in National and International Conferences. She has been the Academic Coordinator for the India Studies Program, an overseas partnership study program offered by Bishop Appasamy College to students from American Universities.

Mrs. J. Esther Margaret, Assistant Professor in the Department of English is currently engaged in her doctoral research in Canadian Literature. Her research at the Masters has also been in the same field focussing on the works of Margaret Atwood. A versatile professor who teaches Literary Theory, Literary Criticism, Women Studies, Phonetics and English Language. Her area of interest is in Women Studies. She also teaches Indian Literature to students from North American Universities in the Study Abroad Program in India.

Published by :

Laser Park Publishing House

Coimbatore Cell - 88070 99902

ISSN - 978-93-842343-7-9

9 789384 234379

Laser Park P. 88070 99902