Wrong is wrong even if everyone's doing it.

Learn to say

No!

Do not do anything online if you won't do it in public.

Your parents are your best friends, confide in them!

We may be tempted to do things because our friends and people around us are doing it. But just because everyone is doing it doesn't mean it is right. Don't fall into peer pressure.

Remember its ok to be an odd man out rather than doing things just because your friends are doing it.

Learn to say NO to things and people that make you feel uncomfortable. It may be hard at first but it is necessary to stop doing things and being with people you are not comfortable with.

Never do, post or text things in web which you won't do in public places. If you feel you can say the very same thing in a public place as you text, you may do it. Otherwise refrain from doing it.

Always remember your parents are your friends and spend time with them. Its is very much advisable to confide in them. They will always have your best interests in mind and will always help you no matter what.
