Respected Sir,

Sub. Employment and Training – District Employment and Career Guidance Centre, Coimbatore – Vacancies in Private and Public Sector – Lack of Employable Skills among job seekers – Unaware of various competitive examinations - Creating Awareness among the candidates – Conducting Career Guidance Program - Seeking Permission – reg.

As you are aware, there are a lot of vacancies in the private sector. But, most of the employers complained that no suitable candidates are available for various types of vacancies. The job seekers don't have employable skills.

Every year UPSC announces thousands of vacancies for various posts. Recently, UPSC has notified around 600 vacancies for the post of Assistant Commissioner and Preventive Officer in the Provident Fund Organisation. But most of the students in our city don't know about the examination. So is the case with Staff Selection Commission.

In order to create awareness among the students about the employable skills and the various competitive examinations conducted by the Union Public Services Commission, Staff Selection Commission, Banking (IBPS) and Railway Recruitment Board. We are planning to conduct a Career Guidance Program in your college, with the main focus on employable skills required to get jobs in private sector. So, I kindly request you to give us permission to conduct a Career Guidance Program in your college on 10th July 2023.

The topic of the session: Campus to Corporate.

With regards and respects,

Thank You.

Yours faithfully
